

NAVY HEALTH CARE

The U.S. Navy Health Services Collegiate Program (HSCP)

If you plan to attend MEDICAL, DENTAL, AUDIOLOGY (Externship), INDUSTRIAL HYGIENE (Masters), PHARMACY, HEALTH CARE ADMINISTRATION (Masters), ENTOMOLOGY (Masters or Doctoral), PODIATRY (Residency), ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH (Bachelors or Masters), or PHYSICIAN ASSISTANT School, the Health Services Collegiate Program (HSCP) can provide significant financial assistance while you obtain your degree so you can concentrate on your studies. The value of this program could be well over $95,000 for a two-year program or well over $196,000 during the course of a four-year professional school program. After graduation, you will join the Navy's active duty team as a commissioned officer.

What are the financial benefits of this program?

- Earn over $95,000 for two years and up to over $196,000 for four year program contracts*.
- Receive the pay and benefits of an active duty person with the rank of E-6 (currently about $3900/month)*.
- Have an opportunity to be promoted to E-7 and increase your monthly pay (currently about $4300/month)*.
- Full medical and dental insurance covered.
- 30 days of vacation earned each year.
- Time in the program counts towards your retirement and pay status.

 Navy HSCP housing allowance based on graduate school location. Increased offer amounts available in areas with a higher cost of living. These numbers are based yearly military pay tables and are subject to change at the discretion of Congress.*

What does it take to qualify for this program?

- Be accepted to or enrolled in a fully accredited AMA or AOA school of medicine.
- Be a U. S. citizen and physically qualified for commission as a Navy officer.
- Required GPAs for acceptance to this program vary but at a minimum most require higher than a 3.0 some must be higher. Ask your recruiter for specifics. Waivers for low GPAs are not granted.

How will I become oriented as a Naval Officer?

To familiarize you with the Navy and prepare you for active duty, you'll attend Officer Development School (ODS) at Newport, RI upon graduation and commissioning. ODS website: Officer Training Command Newport - ODS

What will my service obligation be if I am accepted into the program?

- Be in contact with a recruiter twice monthly via phone or email while in school.
- Visit a recruiter close to you once every two months while in school.
- Must participate in the Physical Readiness Program every 6 months while in school.
- Selectees will participate in the command's urinalysis program.
- Attend ODS prior to reporting to your first permanent duty station.
- Serve one year of active duty in a non-training status for each year of program participation (time spent in internship or the dental Advanced Education in General Dentistry (AEGD)/General Practice Residency (GPR) does not count toward your active duty obligation), with a minimum of three years on active duty.
