

NAVY HEALTH CARE

REGISTERED PROFESSIONAL NURSE

Do you have a Bachelor's of Science in Nursing, an active nursing license but limited or no experience? The Navy Nurse Corps Professional Nursing Subspecialty offers a pathway to service as a Navy Nurse!

The greatest reward for nearly every nurse is the joy of serving others. But in the Navy Nurse Corps, when you work to improve the lives of others, you can vastly improve your own – both professionally and personally. As a Navy Nurse, you will serve your country by helping not only those in the military who defend it, but also their families and people in need around the globe. In some of the most dynamic environments imaginable. Serving a greater good – and your own career.

A new board has been added to the Navy Nurse Corps for this FY for the PROFESSIONAL NURSING SUBSPECIALTY (1900E), targeted at bringing newly licensed nurses with no experience onto Active Duty. Applications will be accepted from both Enlisted and Civilian nurses. Applications accepted monthly.
